Excerpt from The Wool Situation: March 1948 European countries continue to purchase quite heavily at London and Southern Hemisphere markets. Inventories of raw wool have been built up in Europe during the past year even though the wool textile industries of many western European countries were operating close to the prewar level during 1947. United States buying in the last 2 seasons has been much smaller than during the war, although many times larger than in the 1930 s. The United States imported 439 million pounds of apparel wool last year compared with yearly totals ranging from 17 to 150 million pounds during the years 1930 through 1939.
